

TIME

TIME Magazine has decided to ask famous people about their December holidays and their new year's resolutions.

Your mission is to write, and then to enact the interview between the celebrities and the reporters.

Your group will be composed of four people, that is, two partner celebrities and two journalists.

All celebrities should be English-speaking natives and live in an English-speaking country.

SUCCESS CRITERIA & HELP → useful tips for the conversation:

- use an online dictionary to look up new words, if necessary
- use greetings and social phrases
- mention places, cities/countries as well as people and activities
- ask questions in the present, in the past and in the future
- express opinions, emotions and feelings
- make sure each group member is fully active

The interview should last around four minutes.
